

Personal data processing consent

I voluntarily provide my personal data through this form for verification of the details associated with my existing request, review of that request, and further communication with me.

The data may include my first name, last name, telephone number, the selected range of reported financial losses, and technical information necessary for secure form operation.

I understand that the data may be collected, recorded, stored, reviewed and otherwise processed by automated or manual means, only as reasonably necessary for these purposes.

For these purposes, the data may be disclosed to authorized personnel, contracted specialists and service providers assisting with my request, subject to applicable confidentiality, security and data-protection obligations. This is not permission for unrestricted disclosure or unrelated marketing.

I understand that applicable law may grant me rights to request access, correction, deletion or restriction of my data, and to withdraw consent where consent is the applicable legal basis. Withdrawal does not affect processing lawfully performed before withdrawal.

Providing information does not guarantee recovery of funds. This statement does not replace any legally required privacy notice identifying the data controller, retention periods, international transfers and contact channels.
